

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 28, 1881.

KENTUCKY is the eighth state in population in the United States.

THE Reagan bill on inter-State commerce will reappear in the house.

THE cost of taking care of small pox patients at Ironton amounted to over $13,000.

THE old navy ring is pushing for the front under the lead of ex-Secretary Robeson.

MR. SPRINGER, of Illinois, will shortly introduce a bill in Congress establishing postal telegraphy.

THE interest on the public debt has been decreased about $18,000,000 since the first of January, 1880.

GEN. MAHONE says Virginia raises too many statesmen and too little grain. If Mahone is a sample of the statesmen Mahone is right.

THE Philadelphia Record (Ind.) says of Brewster, the Attorney-General, that "like Caleb Cushing, he is a man of large abilities and small conscience."

THE conviction and sentence of eleven persons in England for bribery at elections again reminds us that this is not the only country where politics are corrupt.

SECRETARY FOLGER disclaims any intention to anticipate the January interest, and says that he considers such a step uncalled for under the present satisfactory condition of the finances.

SINCE the 1st day of January last, there have been one hundred and twenty-five boys, between fourteen and twenty-one years of age, received at the Ohio penitentiary for various crimes.

It is now said that the Republicans will attempt to secure twenty Democratic seats, mostly in the South, by contesting them before the election committee which stands eleven Republicans to four Democrats.

THE Cincinnati Gazette (Rep.) says: Secretary Blaine succeeded in getting his foot very deep into the niter beds of Peru. I wish government to be used for the purpose of advancing the interests of private speculators?

THE N. Y. Tribune (Rep.) says: The man who believes any longer that any of the Star Route thieves will ever adorn a felon's cell would be pronounced a crank by any competent jury, without leaving the box, after hearing his deposition to that effect.

ACCORDING to intelligence from St. Petersburg, great indignation prevails there at the reprehensible conduct of the President of the Administration of Eastern Siberia, who refused to telegraph an announcement of the arrival of the survivors because they were without funds. The first news of their escape was consequently delayed ten weeks.

SAYS the New York Sun: The method in Guiteau's madness is nowhere more plainly shown than in his greetings to his numerous creditors as they take their place in the witness-stand. In ordinary cases the fact that the prisoner owed the witness money would induce the jury to weigh the witness' testimony with care, as coming from one naturally prejudiced against the prisoner. It is not unlikely that Guiteau has thought of this, and so he prefaces their testimony by acknowledging his indebtedness.

BY TELEGRAPH.

It is given out now that Secretary Hunt will soon retire from the cabinet, and politicians are trying to predict who his successor is to be.

The Ashland Tragedy.

At Ashland, Ky., the excitement is still intense over the terrible tragedy which occurred there, and every effort is being made to capture the perpetrators of the horrible deed. The fact that Gibbons, father of two of the murdered children, has not been seen since the tragedy is causing considerable comment. It is stated that he and his wife did not agree, and on several occasions he threatened to kill the entire family and then commit suicide himself. Detective Norris, of Springfield, O., is hard at work on the case, and is now trying to find Mr. Gibbons. The coroner's inquest has been adjourned until next Monday.

There are no new developments. The last known of Mr. Gibbons he was in Virginia, and has not been seen for some weeks.
